FOREST

This artwork captures a striking scene of a massive cracked marble boulder resting in a serene, snowy landscape. Delicate yellow shrubs emerge from the fissures, symbolizing resilience and life thriving amidst harsh conditions. The smooth white stone, with intricate black veining, contrasts beautifully against the soft snow and towering mist-covered mountains in the background. The composition evokes a sense of strength, fragility, and harmony within nature's raw beauty.

SUGAR Surfaces

Sugar effect tiles create unique effects of light reflection and depth, making the space more dynamic. The glaze is highly resistant to impact and scratches and the sugar powder used in its composition maintains its texture even when combined with polishing materials. Additionally, the sugar effect glaze doesn't add extra weight to the tile, making installation and maintenance easy.
